Ike Asks Power To Commit Troops In Middle East

Also Requests $400 Million In Economic Aid

Program Designed To Deal With Any Soviet Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress for advance authority to commit American troops to "protect the territorial integrity and political independence" of any Middle Eastern nation threatened by "armed aggression" from international communism.

In a special message prepared for personal delivery to a joint session of the Senate and House, Eisenhower also said he will seek 400 million dollars in economic aid for the trouble-ridden Middle East. The money would be spent over a two-year period.

His message, carried nationwide on television and radio, also asked Congress to authorize a regional program of "military assistance and cooperation with any nation or group of nations which desires such aid."

Would Deal With Aggression

Eisenhower said his program is designed to deal with any case of communist aggression in the Middle East, either direct or indirect.

He said it would authorize "employment of the armed forces of the United States to secure and protect the territorial integrity and political independence of such nations, requesting such aid, against overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international communism."

Eisenhower did not mention Russia by name at that point but he did in other sections of his 3,200-word message—making it clear that the administration program is directed against any aggression or communist subversion directly or indirectly led by the Soviet Union.

"Russia's rulers," Eisenhower said, "have long sought to dominate the Middle East."

Cites Power Politics

At another point, the President said, "the reason for Russia's interest in the Middle East is solely that of power politics."

He added: "Considering her announced purpose of communizing the world, it is easy to understand her hope of dominating the Middle East."

Eisenhower also said: "The Soviet Union has nothing whatsoever to fear from the United States in the Middle East, or anywhere else in the world, so long as its rulers do not themselves first resort to aggression."

"That statement I make solemnly and emphatically."

There was general belief in Congress that Eisenhower will get the standby authority he seeks to use American troops to counter any direct Communist threat in the Middle East. But it appeared likely that Congress would weigh the request for weeks, possibly making a number of changes in the language.

In outlining his three-point program—calling for possible use of U. S. troops, military assistance, and economic aid—Eisenhower said:

"This program will not solve all the problems of the Middle East."

He said, for example, he would leave such problems as the Israeli-Arab dispute for handling in the United Nations—"and we are supporting the United Nations."

Eisenhower told the lawmakers he intends "promptly to send a special mission to the Middle East to explain the cooperation we are prepared to give" nations of that area.

He said Communist propagandists already are "grossly distorting our purpose" in the new program.

Declaring the Middle East "has abruptly reached a new and critical stage," Eisenhower said international communism "seeks to mask its purposes of domination

ACTRESS FOUND — Blonde screen actress Marie McDonald as found wandering in the desert early today after being missing from her Encino, Calif., home since Thursday. The actress reported she was kidnapped by two men.

Marie McDonald Found In Desert

Bruised Star Says 2 Men Kidnaped Her

INDIO, Calif. (AP)—Blonde Marie (The Body) McDonald, her face bruised and two of her teeth cracked, was found wandering dazedly on the desert in night attire early today, sheriff's deputies reported.

The officers said she told them that two kidnapers had pushed her from a car after a wild ride at 60 and 70 miles an hour from Los Angeles.

Just 24 hours earlier the glamorous actress had vanished from her home in Encino, a Los Angeles suburb. Since then she had three times reported herself abducted in telephone calls to friends.

Deputies Give Account

Riverside County sheriff's deputies gave this account:

A Los Angeles truck driver, Richard D. Corn, reported that a woman clad in night clothes ran in front of his truck near Cactus City, 17 miles east of Indio.

"I had a hell of a time stopping the truck," said Corn. "She was so hysterical I didn't know what was going on."

Corn took her to Cactus City. He said she was wearing slippers and a house coat over a nightgown.

From Cactus City the actress was brought to Coachella Valley Hospital here, where Dr. Allan Fisher reported her "in good condition, but bruised about the face and head."

Roadblocks immediately were set up around the area in which Miss McDonald was found.

Before she was placed under sedation, deputies said, Miss McDonald related that two men with wavy hair, wearing long dark jackets, blindfolded her and took her from her home in Los Angeles about dusk Friday night.

This evidently was the house to which she was removed from her Encino home early Friday, and from which her telephone calls were made, officers said.

Drove Into Desert

Then they drove her into the desert, she said, and the car, a light two-door sedan, traveled 60 and 70 miles an hour.

During the ride, Miss McDonald related, she struggled with the two men, scratching their faces and chests. Deputies confirmed that her nails were broken.

Miss McDonald reported that the two men were probably in their 20s. She said they finally pushed her out of the car on a desert highway and she tumbled down an embankment, then saw Corn's truck approaching.

In Los Angeles, the FBI announced that, after an inquiry, its agents had found no evidence of interstate transportation, and thus were not engaging further in the investigation.

Until Corn's truck lights picked up the form of the wandering woman, no clue had been found to Miss McDonald's whereabouts during a day of fantastic developments, in the course of which police candidly expressed puzzle

N. Lima Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

NORTH LIMA — Lemuel W. Mentzer, 83, of Columbiana Road died Friday at 5:35 p.m. in South Side Hospital, Youngstown of injuries received in an automobile accident at the intersection of Rts. 7 and 165 here Thursday.

Reasbeck told state highway patrolmen Mentzer's car, traveling west on Rt. 165, pulled into the intersection in front of his truck, which he was driving south on Rt. 7.

Mentzer sustained fractures of the skull and ribs.

Born in Beaver Township Sept. 23, 1873, he was the son of Samuel and Angeline Fischel Mentzer.

His wife, the former Leola King, whom he married Oct. 14, 1952, survives in the home. His first wife, the former Elizabeth Scott, died in 1945.

He lived in this area all his life and was last employed by the County Highway Department. He formerly was a blacksmith in Beaver Township and a general concrete contractor in North Lima and Youngstown.

He was a member of the Mt. Olivet Evangelical and Reformed Church in North Lima.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Leonard of North Lima; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Esterly of Denver, Colo., and Miss Angie Mentzer of North Lima; two brothers, Homer Mentzer of Canfield and Roy Mentzer of Columbiana; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Seelye-Beilhart Funeral Home here Monday at 2 p.m. Rev. O. J. Zechel of Mt. Olivet Church will officiate.

Interment will be in North Lima Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Egypt Shuns Settlement Talks With France

Hopes For Solving Suez Dispute Dim

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Hopes for solving the Suez Canal dispute dimmed today after Egypt let it be known it will not discuss any such settlement with France.

Egyptian sources made this clear as word went out that French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau is expected here next week. There have been reports he is coming to take part in Suez talks between Egypt, France, Britain and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The Egyptians have made no secret of their belief that France was chiefly responsible for the Suez invasion.

Egyptian informants also indicated they will try to increase pressure on Israel to pull out of the Gaza Strip and Sinai Desert by asking Hammarskjöld to report on the Israeli troop situation if they are not out in 10 days.

An Israeli spokesman said the troops are withdrawing in accordance with a U. N. timetable.

Diplomatic sources said Hammarskjöld's top aide, Andrew Cordier, had disclosed that the first convoy of ships is expected to pass through the Suez waterway by early March. The group will be limited to ships of 10,000 tons and carry only dry cargo, they added.

Cordier told newsmen earlier Egypt and the U. N. had reached agreement on full clearance of the debris-choked, 103-mile canal. He said the U. N. salvage fleet expected to clear the canal to a depth of 25 feet by early March and 34 feet by May.

He said the original plan to use

County Tour Set By State X-Ray Unit

LISBON — Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County health commissioner, said today an Ohio Department of Health mobile X-ray unit will tour county for nine days, beginning Jan. 22.

To be eligible for the free X-ray service of the Ohio Department of Health, it is necessary for a county health department to employ a full time health commissioner.

This will be the third visit for the state unit to this county. The survey is for the general public, aged 15 and over. People in the older age group are urged to take the X-rays since statistics show that many cases of tuberculosis are found in the age group 40 and over. This will also be an opportunity for food handlers, who are required by law to have annual chest X-rays, to take advantage of the free service.

The X-rays may not only detect tuberculosis, but many other diseases of the chest, Dr. Palmer stresses.

The unit will visit various areas in the county, as follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 22, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m., public square at Columbiana; Wednesday, Jan. 23, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4, Main St. in Leetonia; Thursday, Jan. 24, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4, Salem Golf Club; Friday, Jan. 25, 1 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 26, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

Tuesday, Jan. 29, 9 to 12, North Georgetown Lutheran Church, and 2 to 5 p.m., United Local School; Wednesday, Jan. 30, 9 to 12 and 1 to 4, New Waterford School; Thursday, Jan. 31, 9 to 12, Summitville School; Friday, Feb. 1, 9 to 12, Beaver Local High School, and 2 to 5, Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church.

FBI Agents Nab Irving Potash

Exiled Communist Had Re-Entered U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Irving Potash, onetime top American Communist who in 1955 chose voluntary exile to Red Poland rather than face further government prosecution, was seized by FBI agents Friday night for illegally re-entering the United States.

Government agents grabbed the 54-year-old Russian-born alien in a Bronxville, N. Y., restaurant, in Westchester County, just north of the New York City line. Further details of the arrest were not disclosed.

It was the first official intimation that Potash had returned to this country since he sailed March 4, 1955, for Poland. Since then, he has been reported in various Iron Curtain countries, including Russia and Communist China.

Details of how and when he managed to re-enter the United States were not known.

Potash was one of 11 top American Communist leaders convicted Oct. 14, 1949, for conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government. At the time of his conviction, Potash was a vice president of the old CIO International Fur Workers Union.

Given a five-year sentence, Potash was released from the Leavenworth, Kan., federal penitentiary Dec. 9, 1954, after serving three years and five months, with time off for good behavior.

He was immediately rearrested on an untried second count of the Smith Act, making it illegal to knowingly belong to a party which advocates violent overthrow of the government.

Faced with another five-year jail term if convicted, Potash agreed to voluntary exile to Poland and the government dropped the second charge. The government had been seeking his deportation since 1948.

Driver Is Injured Near Washingtonville

Lawrence Stokes, 16, of Leetonia, was treated for lacerations of the nose and cheek after his car went out of control and hit a dirt embankment on the Butcher road, one mile east of Washingtonville Friday at 10:15 p.m.

Highway patrolmen said Stokes was turning off Rt. 14 onto the Butcher road when the mishap occurred. He was treated at Salem City hospital.

Stokes will be cited in juvenile court, patrolmen said.

70 Patients Escape Blaze At N. Lima

Smith Sweets Dies From Asphyxiation; Firemen Halt Flames

One man died and another is in serious condition as the result of a fire early this morning at the Delps Mansion Nursing Home on Route 7 near Western Reserve Rd. north of North Lima.

Three other persons were injured, but 70 other aged patients at the spacious home were led to safety in an orderly fashion.

Smith E. Sweets, 79, formerly of Mesopotamia, died of asphyxiation and John Maloney, 89, was overcome by smoke and is in serious condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Treated at the hospital for smoke inhalation were Glenn Wilks, Boardman constable, and two patients from the home, Earl Lydell, 70, and Harry Willets, 74.

Automatic Alarm Sounded

Constable Wilks and Constable Chauncey Nybell were the first to arrive on the scene after the nursing home's automatic fire alarm signal sounded on top of the building.

Wilks was overcome while helping to carry a stretcher patient from the house. Lydell and Willets were treated for exposure.

According to Beaver Township firemen, who were first on the scene, the fire started at 12:30 a.m. in a room on the second floor north wing. The cause was undetermined although a discarded cigarette may have started the fire.

As five patients in that area were carried to safety, the other residents of the home were led to safety by firemen and constables. Most of the patients were on the first floor.

The home was re-occupied soon after the fire was extinguished.

The flames damaged two bedrooms in the north wing area, a hallway and the attic.

Firemen from Beaver Township, North Lima, Struthers, Canfield and Youngstown responded to the alarm. Ambulances sped to the scene from neighboring communities when word of the fire was spread.

No official estimate of the property damage was given.

The body of Mr. Sweets was removed to the Lawrence funeral home at West Farmington. Coroner David Belinsky said the victim died from the effects of smoke inhalation.

See Adequate Supply Of Newsprint In '57

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee report says Commerce Department figures indicate there will be "adequate supplies" of newsprint for U.S. users in 1957.

In its report filed Friday, the House Commerce committee also forecast "an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers" in 1957.

The report said domestic newsprint consumption probably will total about seven million tons. The available supply should exceed this by about 125,000 tons, it said.

About 74 per cent of the total anticipated supply this year would come from Canada, with domestic production amounting to about 24 per cent. The remaining 2 per cent would come from overseas producers.

The committee made no mention of an announcement two days ago by Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., a major Canadian producer, that its newsprint prices would be boosted $4 a ton March 1.

Concerning advertising, the report said:

"During the latter part of 1956, statistics on newspaper advertising show a leveling off in advertising volume. However, it is expected that during 1957 there will again be an upturn in advertising, especially in newspapers, in an effort to dispose of goods and services resulting from the continued expansion in industrial capacity generally."

"Therefore, competition for the consumer's dollar may likely be keener in 1957 than in the past few years."

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Easing Your Tension

Last summer, while visiting Denmark, I went sightseeing in Copenhagen. The most impressive thing I saw there was the great Protestant cathedral, whose impressive beauty results from its stark simplicity.

Peale

The church is not without art, however. Around its walls are great heroic statues of the Apostles, magnificent in conception. And, at the end of the cathedral, behind the altar, stands one of the most inspiring pieces of sculpture I have seen anywhere in the world. It captured my immediate attention and excited my interest, so I set out to learn more about it.

I found that the statue which so impressed me was the work of a great Danish sculptor, Albert Bertel Thorvaldsen. The artist was not a religious man; in fact, he became famous for his interest in Greek art and his many neo-classic statues may still be seen in Rome. But, on his return to Copenhagen from Rome, he decided he wanted to execute the most impressive statue of Jesus ever created.

SO THORVALDSEN went to work and pictured Jesus as a man of great physical strength, with a fine and well-shaped head. The head was thrown back imperiously and the hands were raised in a gesture of command. This seemed to the artist to be the proper approach to Jesus, who shaped the lives of millions in the generations that followed Him. Having finished, he looked at the clay statue with satisfaction; it seemed filled with power.

He left the statue in his studio for several days for the clay to set. When he returned he found that the sea mist and fog had somehow come in and affected the clay. The head had fallen forward and was looking, not up, but down; the hands were no longer raised, but had fallen to a position of compassionate entreaty.

Thorvaldsen was horrified at what he felt was the ruin of his work. But, as he looked at the statue, it seemed to him that perhaps this was the real Jesus and that some greater power had helped him find a nobler connection.

He put that statue into the church where I found it — as many others had done before me — and wrote under it in Danish the words, "Come unto me." You will recognize them as the beginning of a sentence which continues, "all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

AND PERHAPS THIS is the greatest invitation of all time, with its call to troubled people everywhere, to come to Him and receive His peace. There is one particular need in our modern world from which we need relief. That need is tension and stress which has destroyed the peace and happiness of so many.

Yet really you do not need to be tense. God can free you from tension. Tension comes from within, from tense thought patterns. And, if you cultivate the calm and peaceful spirit of Christ, you can relax your tensions and acquire peaceful control.

Just say those words to yourself several times a day, "Come unto me, all ye who labor and are heavy laden (that is, are burdened), and I will give you rest." As you say these words, conceive of them as sinking deeply into your mind to bestow peace and reduce your tension. They have a strange and wonderful healing effect as you will discover.

HER WINDOW

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis... the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.

Religion In And On The Job

Faith Unqualified

By EUGENE CARR

"Some people never grow up!" That's the expression we use to describe an older person whose conduct is childish. As a rule, we do not like such conduct in an adult. We like to see people "act their age" in a stable, graceful way.

Sometimes, however, we carry the idea of maturity too far, because all childish traits are not bad in a grown person. One in particular is good, and to it are tied a number of other traits that add immeasurably to happiness and satisfaction in later years. This particular trait is unqualified faith. Children have it. Usually, they face danger with a great deal more poise than adults. They have more natural confidence and more pronounced ideas of what they want and do not want from life, at least at the time. They have a better understanding of people, both adults and other children. Call it intuition, if you will, but they know what they like or do not like about you.

This trait finds its roots in the faith with which a child is born, a faith that gives him a sense of security and comfort, a faith that remains until it is changed by the ways of the world and the influences of man. Then the child "grows up" and learns to know fear and hate and selfishness and sin in its true sense.

From time to time we are urged to develop our faith into what is known as "a mature faith." No doubt, this refers to a deeper understanding of God and our relationship with Him, the arrival, so to speak, at the point of total commitment to His way of life. This is good advice if, in accepting it, we do not give up the unaltered faith that comes with us in the beginning.

It is all too easy to confuse maturity with learning, manners, dress, custom and speech. These are accepted signs of a mature person, but they are not the rock-bottom foundation on which maturity is built; they are the result of being mature.

Some of us give the impression of being learned but we are unreasonable, some of us have good manners but are not sure of ourselves, some of us appear steadfast but lack courage, some of us speak convincingly but rear the implications of our own words.

One who is truly mature goes about life unmoved by custom, secure in his knowledge however meager, and clings to a simple faith that knows no confusion. Neither death, nor failure, nor disparagement shake him, and whatever the man-made fates deal him, bitterness and resentment have no place in his life.

Most of us manage to grow up physically, mentally, and socially, and need not be concerned about maturing spiritually, so long as we retain the faith with which we were born. It is the faith that brings balance into the whole of life.

Test Of Statesmanship

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The statesmanship of Speaker Sam Rayburn, Democrat, is responsible for the unity with which leaders in Congress have greeted President Eisenhower's request for a joint resolution authorizing the executive to utilize the armed forces of the United States in certain contingencies in the Middle East.

Mr. Rayburn took a broad view of the problems facing America in the Middle East and after listening to the President's exposition, he said then and there to his colleagues that, when a man of the military background of Mr. Eisenhower felt that such authority was necessary, it was up to Congress to grant him that power.

This is the very spirit of cooperation which is so essential these days to the successful evolution of American policy in world affairs. It is an example of leadership which cannot but help the rest of the world understand that all political parties in this country are willing to see great sacrifices made to prevent another global war from breaking out.

IN THE LENGTHY discussion between the President and congressional leaders on New Year's day at the White House there were some interesting questions asked and answered.

One of them related to the suggestion that the President already has the power to act. Another comment was that, when the emergency arose, the President could come to Congress and promptly get a resolution of authority.

But Mr. Eisenhower disposed of both points very effectively. He declared that he had the utmost respect for the constitutional prerogatives of Congress in relation to use of the armed forces and that he believes it would be better if the executive were given explicitly the authority to act instantly in an emergency.

Mr. Eisenhower further pointed out that the object of the present move was to let the world know exactly what the United States would do in certain circumstances and that it was important to proclaim the fact that Congress and the executive both had authorized the use of American armed forces to ward off aggression in the Middle East.

ANY OTHER COURSE could involve doubt as to what Congress might or might not do, and it could conceivably lead to a miscalculation by an aggressor as to the nature of American policy, as has happened before.

As for the argument that the President already has the authority to use the armed forces of the United States and could act in an emergency and then ask for ratification by Congress, if necessary, this is an oft-debated point.

There are precedents which have occurred in the last 100 years under which the chief executive has ordered American armed forces used in foreign countries but primarily these have been confined to the landing of Marines or the sending of warships to ports where American lives and property have been threatened by local disturbances.

The most important precedent in which presidential action occurred in a large military undertaking without a resolution of authority being requested from Congress was in June 1950.

Then, in pursuance of a decision by the Security Council of the United Nations, President Truman ordered American troops to Korea. At no time thereafter was a resolution requested so that the step taken could legally be ratified by Congress.

MR. EISENHOWER in his campaign speeches in 1952 referred to the fact that presidential action, involving Americans in a war which is the third largest in the world in the last 35 years, was taken without action by Congress.

There were some hasty consultations with a few congressional leaders in advance but there wasn't time for Mr. Truman to get a resolution of authority passed.

This, however, doesn't explain the unwillingness of the Truman administration to ask Congress for a resolution of ratification after the Korean war began, which is what President Wilson did in 1914 immediately after he ordered American Marines—at four o'clock one morning—to land in Vera Cruz.

Mr. Eisenhower, in brief, wants the world to know now that America will interpose her military strength against Communist aggression in the Middle East and he believes an overwhelming vote in Congress on that subject will have a deterrent influence, just as the adoption of the same type of resolution has helped to prevent another war in and around Formosa.

THERE WAS SOME comment at the meeting of the congressional leaders about the fact that the new plan was "leaked" to reporters in Washington before chairmen of congressional committees knew about it.

The answer is that the news "leaked" first from Europe. This often happens when the United States endeavors to elicit informal expressions of opinion on forthcoming policy from diplomats abroad.

When it does occur, the State Department feels the necessity of giving promptly a background explanation to the America press in order to prevent fragmentary or erroneous interpretations contained in European news dispatches from being widely accepted in this country.

Conscientious Servant Bows Out

By PAUL MARTIN

Herbert Hoover Jr., is leaving the government of his own volition. He is not being "kicked out," contrary to some reports.

"The President and Secretary Dulles like him too much for that," said an administration official, "If Hoover had wanted to stay, he could have. He wants to leave, to get back into private business."

"He is a controversial figure, he is conservative but he's also misunderstood," this official observed. "He is not isolationist or reactionary. He is a tough, realistic guy. We shall miss him in the government."

Mr. Hoover, 53, is leaving as undersecretary of state around Feb. 1, after having served more than two years in the Eisenhower administration as the No. 2 man in the U.S. foreign office.

Gov. Christian A. Herter, 61, of Massachusetts, is scheduled to replace him. Gov. Herter is being groomed to eventually become secretary of state, whenever John Foster Dulles, 68, chooses to retire.

IT IS NOT generally known but one reason for Mr. Hoover's departure is his health. He has long worn a hearing aid, the result of a childhood disease. If modern "wonder drugs" had been available then, his hearing would have been fully restored.

As it is, Mr. Hoover has been having trouble recently with his inner ear, some dizziness requiring medication and treatment. He continued to serve as acting secretary of state this fall, while Secretary Dulles was in Walter Reed Army Hospital, with considerable difficulty.

If it had not been for the emergency situation of Mr. Dulles' operation, and international crisis arising in Hungary and the Middle East, Mr. Hoover would have left the government before. As it was, he stayed on at President Eisenhower's request.

All three of these top figures in U.S. foreign policy have encountered health problems. Mr. Dulles underwent a successful operation for removal of an abdominal cancer. Mr. Hoover has ear trouble.

Gov. Herter has been afflicted by arthritis for years.

WHILE THEY HAVE some difference of opinion, they also have in common. Mr. Hoover and Gov. Herter were both born overseas of American parents—Gov. Herter in Paris in 1895, Mr. Hoover in London in 1903. Mr. Hoover's father, later to become the U.S. president, was then traveling the world as an engineer. Both went to Harvard University.

Gov. Herter worked for Herbert Hoover Sr., while Mr. Hoover was American relief administrator in Europe after World War I and later when Mr. Hoover was secretary of commerce in the Coolidge administration.

The group that probably had the most to do with selling the "Marshall Plan" to the GOP-controlled 80th Congress in 1947-48 was the select House committee on the European Recovery Program headed by Gov. Herter.

From his chairmanship of the House committee, Gov. Herter gained the reputation of being an outstanding "liberal." On domestic affairs, however, he is comparatively conservative. Gov. Herter first ran for Congress in 1942 on a platform to repeal social security.

MR. DULLES is something of the same thing—conservative on domestic issues, an "internationalist" in foreign affairs.

When Mr. Dulles ran for the Senate in New York in 1949 against Herbert H. Lehman, Mr. Dulles conducted a campaign against "big government" or "statism."

Good To The Last Laugh

By GEORGE Q. LEWIS

"Who was that lady I saw you with last night?"

"That was no lady—that was my wife."

This joke, having hit the top of the laugh-meter in 1898 or thereabouts, may be counted by most as having had its last laugh. Not so. Indeed, it may try for a comeback in 1957, according to a frankly frowning New Year forecast made by members of the National Association of Gagwriters.

If consumers take such an event lying down on their television couches, they can expect to be soon fed the humor of yesterday more and more.

The outlook for laugh production in 1957 is not bright. The principal reason for the downgrading trend lies in the gagster's rule of thumb:

Fresh jokes tend to be driven out of the market. When old jokes are handy and they are handy by the score in the huge backlog of films which the motion picture industry has unleashed on television audiences.

Old, old, old movies are more and more finding their places on the program schedules. No matter how excellent the business angles of such a deal, gagwriters take the point of view that old jokes—unlike wine—simply do not improve with age.

How would you react if this bearded yok came out of your TV receiver—as it just might:

"A couple of sheep got married, and for a wedding present her parents gave them wool to wool carpeting."

Some jokes, it is submitted, should be told once. Another example:

"The price of an article will slide downward if you like to bogam." Such ceased being popular after the war—the War of 1912.

Gov. Herter will bring to the State Department another trait which he shares in common with Mr. Dulles—first, hand knowledge, from having served in Congress, of how to negotiate with the legislative branch of government.

Some junior officers in the State Department regard Mr. Hoover as a "mossback" who is always "agin" the schemes they propose. An insider, however, explained Mr. Hoover's attitude in this way:

"Mr. Hoover never approves, unless he is sure they have thought it through. He wants to know where this policy would lead us in another five years, not just tomorrow. He is not against things—but he turns them back, until he is sure that all angles have been considered."

"THE LAST administration spent a lot of money around the world on the theory that by just spending it, throwing it around, some good would come of it. They not only spent money needlessly, but in some instances counterproductively."

"Hoover is a business plunger. He doesn't worry about spending money, when he sees something that is really good for America; then he has the courage to spend big. But he has his tough attitude. He has operated as a good check on the theorists in the department."

Whether Gov. Herter can keep a similar checkrein on the State Department planners, while Secretary Dulles is away from home, remains to be seen. However, officers who favor big foreign spending think that Gov. Herter is going to be more open-handed with them.

Thoughts

And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies and weary themselves to commit iniquity. —Jeremiah 9:5.

All deception in the course of life is, indeed, nothing else but a lie. —Luther.

It all adds up to a bad year for the laugh engineers. We're fast approaching an "age of automation," in comedy. In the view of the gagwriters' association, the government should set up a national laugh foundation, similar to the National Science Foundation and also devoted to the public welfare. Otherwise—well, 1957 will be a happy year for tragedies.

There is no job that's so soft you should lie down on it.

Kadar And The Bank Loan

Janos Kadar's reported hint he would like a loan of 10 million dollars from the World Bank, an agency of the Free World, to help him with his Communist rule of stricken Hungary has been followed by denials. (It is just possible Kadar wouldn't take the money unless we gave green trading stamps with it.)

WE FANCIED A DIALOGUE between Kadar and Uncle Sam on the matter:

U.S.—Have my ears deceived me or do you really seek a loan from the World Bank?

Kadar—I have not been feeling too well lately and I figured that nothing would improve my condition so much as money.

U.S.—And you're not particular whose money? Kadar—Not at all. We Communists are very liberal in our financial thinking.

U.S.—Let me get this straight: You're the Soviet dictator of a satellite state crushed and persecuted by Russia. You're opposed to all that the Free World stands for, but you would like it to FINANCE YOU!!!

Kadar—as is well known by all peace-loving nations, you are taking a very narrow view when you put it so honestly.

U.S.—What other view could I take? Kadar—You should realize my position. You have always been very liberal with your money and I wouldn't wish to offend you by not asking for some.

U.S.—Have you heard from Moscow on this? Kadar—Moscow takes the broad position that dough is dough wherever you find it and that finding it is always worth a good try.

U.S.—Some of these millions would go into super tanks, bomber planes, machine guns, secret police operations and other things to crush all idea of independence in Hungary, would they not?

Kadar—There you go talking like a filthy capitalist and a warmonger!

HIJACKERS took $7,000 worth of beef from a truck the other day. . . . That's about the right price for a steak dinner for two, isn't it?

Ingrid Bergman won the award for the best movie performance in 1956, and got in so late she didn't even know she was playing.

Machines are getting smarter than the men who make them, another scientist insists. . . . This bears out our own suspicions. . . . We were outwitted recently by a slot machine supposed to give us a soft drink for a dime.

And in pursuit of the jackpot we have never yet encountered a "one-armed-bandit" machine which didn't display a higher IQ than we had. . . . As a matter of fact we have noticed that in our efforts to take off poundage even our bathroom weigh-machine outsmarts us.

Bellhops, especially in Florida, are wondering how come so many carpetbags. . . . Reservations may be made at once by calling the club at ED 2-4248.

How long since you've cleaned out the kitchen drawers? If they've gotten into an irritating tangle, it's time you turned them out. They're probably cluttered with useless odds and ends.

Midwinter fur designs emphasize glamor and luxury. The short greatcoat of brass-colored Canadian beaver (above) looks its best over a slim, straight skirt. Barrel silhouette (right) is used for truly luxurious long white mink evening coat with pale pink silk crepe lining.

The woman who wants to own mink but who doesn't want a full-length coat might put her money into the blouse jacket of autumn haze mink (above) with zippered closing. She'll find it useful at home or traveling. All three designs shown here are from Leo Ritter's collection.

Mink is the fur that most women want. But few of them will quibble at beaver or Alaska sealskin or Russian broadtail.

The length of the fur wrap you choose depends on several things: your bank account, your wardrobe needs and your height. If you are very small, you'll probably take your fur in the form of a bloused jacket rather than a full-length coat.

But if you are tall and willowy, the drama of the full-length cape or coat is for you. So is the barrel silhouette. You can wear the great coat in its full glory, too, while the shorter girl looks her-best in the short great coat warm over a stem-like skirt.

The cape influence shows itself in both full-length and three-quarter length capes for daytime and evening wear. These are done in mink and Alaska sealskin and are made snug through the use of bloused fronts.

Betrothal Announced

Dorcas Society Has Coverdish Dinner

Mrs. Albert Ryser was a guest when the Dorcas Society of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church held its quarterly birthday coverdish dinner Thursday at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Perry Hilliard Sr. and Mrs. Herbert Platt.

The 16 members and their guest were seated at a table centered with a large birthday cake decorated in green and yellow. Six candles on the cake honored members whose birthdays were celebrated in September through December.

After the dinner, the new president, Mrs. Otis Flick, conducted the business session. Mrs. Charles Foutz read Hebrews 1:8-12; Mrs. Platt gave the daily Bible reading; and Mrs. George D. Keister offered a prayer.

The committee in charge reported that three boxes had been sent to Konarach Mountain School. A birthday collection was taken. Mrs. Merle Bingham of Columbiana was reported to be convalescing at her home following hospitalization. The meeting was closed with the Lord's prayer.

Mrs. Lester Lehman and Mrs. William Rance will be hostesses at the Feb. 7 meeting at 2:15 p.m. in the church.

Engagement Revealed Of Miss Phyllis Smith

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of RD, New Waterford announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis, to Raymond Selman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Selman of Rayland, O.

No date for the wedding has been announced. Miss Smith is employed by the Valley Golf Club of Columbiana. Mr. Selman is an apprentice electrician with the Yorkville Steel Mills.

HAVE BRIDGE SESSION

Five tables of contract bridge were in play Thursday night at the Salem Golf Club. First place honors went to Mrs. Warren Annis and F. W. Hone. Second high scores were won by Mrs. Vincent Judge and Elliott Hansell.

Another bridge session is scheduled for Jan. 17 at the club.

Teen Types To Meet With Gail Strojek

The Teen Types will meet Tuesday at the home of Gail Strojek of 629 Perry St.

The club held a slumber party during the holiday season at the home of Jane Schroeder of Rose Ave. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother.

Canfield Couple Married 40 Years

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hively of RD 3, Canfield observed their 40th wedding anniversary Dec. 30 by holding open house at the Cycle Club in Canfield.

The refreshment table was centered with a tiered cake placed between white candles encircled with red carnations. Cards, flowers and gifts were presented to the honorees.

The couple exchanged their vows Dec. 0, 1916 in Canfield. Their anniversary party was planned by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Arland Hively of Leetonia, Mr. and Mrs. Muri Hively, Mr. and Mrs. George Severs, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hively, all of Canfield, and the 16 grandchildren.

Almost every home can yield a bit more closet room if the present closets are kept absolutely neat. If things you no longer need are discarded, there's immediately room for things in current use.

The Fire Department answered 12 calls during 1956 in Leetonia, three in Salem Township, two in Fairfield Township and one in Columbiana. The report showed only $225 in property damage suffered in 1956. Fire loss in 1955 amounted to $2,000.

Officers elected by the firemen to serve during 1957 are: Robert Brown, chief; Nick Cross, assistant chief; Chalmers Lodge, captain; Leland Helt, lieutenant; Merle Reese, secretary; and Chalmers Lodge, propertyman.

All officers except chief and propertyman are elected for one year term. The chief and propertyman must be appointed by the mayor. Mayor Paul Sevensch appointed Brown and Lodge for a probationary period of six months, the final appointment to be for a four-year term.

THE KIWANIS CLUB will meet at the Leetonia Presbyterian Church Monday evening at 6:10.

Clarence Bud Wooley, who is in charge of the program, has secured Norman Gilsdorf of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, who will have a film to show.

The January meeting of the Leetonia School District P.T.A. will be held in the high school building Monday evening at 8.

The High School Band under the direction of Karl Meinhardt will furnish the program.

All P.T.A. members are urged to be present.

MRS. ROSE JESWALD, 87, fell Thursday morning at the home of her son, Philip Jeswald, Pine St., and fractured her hip. She is in Salem City Hospital.

Seven tables of 500 were in play Thursday evening at the card party sponsored by the Rebekah Lodge. Prizes were awarded to Miss Carol Johnson, Herbert Douglas, Mrs. Herbert Douglas, Mrs. Oren McClun and Mr. Oren McClun.

Friendly Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Cope, Somerset St., with Mrs. Charles Groner as associate hostess.

Willing Workers Class of the Lutheran Sunday School surprised the teacher, Mrs. Lena Brillhart at her home in Columbiana Wednesday evening in honor of her birthday. The class presented Mrs. Brillhart with a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stouffer of Washingtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bricker and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Deffenbaugh were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Deffenbaugh.

HOME CONSTRUCTION FALLS
CLEVELAND (AP) — The city building department says some 40 per cent fewer permits were issued for new residential buildings in 1956 than in 1955. Dollar volume for new home construction also fell off more than 30 per cent. However, rises in industrial, commercial and utilities construction more than offset the drop.

Middle East

by expressions of good will and by superficially attractive offers of political, economic and military aid."

He said "any free nation, which is the subject of Soviet enticement, ought, in elementary wisdom, to look behind the mask."

Eisenhower said "Soviet promises have sunk to a new low" as a result of the Red Army's suppression of Hungarian freedom fighters.

He added that "international communism needs and seeks a recognizable success" in the wake of free world indignation over Soviet ruthlessness in Hungary.

Discussing the new emergency program, Eisenhower told Congress:

"The policy which I outline involves certain burdens and indeed risks for the United States."

But he emphasized the program is designed primarily as a deterrent to aggression.

Dealing in some detail with the possible circumstances under which U. S. troops might be committed in the Middle East, Eisenhower said:

"Such authority would not be exercised except at the desire of the nation attacked. Beyond this it is my profound hope that this authority would never have to be exercised at all."

"Nothing is more necessary to assure this than that our policy with respect to the defense of the area be promptly and clearly determined and declared. Thus the United Nations and all friendly governments and indeed governments which are not friendly, will know where we stand."

"If, contrary to my hope and expectation, a situation arose which called for the military application of the policy which I ask the Congress to join me in proclaiming, I would of course maintain hour-by-hour contact with the Congress if it were in session. And if the Congress were not in session, and if the situation had grave implications, I would, of course, at once call the Congress into special session."

Eisenhower went on to say that in the present situation in the Middle East, "the greatest risk, as is often the case, is that ambitious despots may miscalculate." He added:

"If power-hungry Communists should either falsely or correctly estimate that the Middle East is inadequately defended, they might be tempted to use open measures of armed attack."

"If so, that would start a chain of circumstances which would almost surely involve the United States in military action. I am convinced that the best insurance against this dangerous contingency is to make clear now our readiness to cooperate fully and freely with our friends of the Middle East in ways consonant with the purposes and principles of the United Nations."

In recent weeks, since the outbreak of the latest trouble in the powder keg Middle East, Eisenhower has taken a dim view of big power "summit" conferences as a means of working out a solution.

He said today, however, "there is no nation, great or small, with which we would refuse to negotiate, in mutual good faith, with patience and in the determination to secure a better understanding between us."

But Eisenhower cautioned that the United States "in the interest of peace itself" must remain vigilant, alert and strong "until a degree of success crowns our efforts" in the direction of international understanding.

In urging approval of the administration program for the Middle East, he said:

"The occasion has come for us to manifest again our national unity in support of freedom and to show our deep respect for the rights and independence of every nation—however great, however small. We seek not violence, but peace. To this purpose we must now devote our energies, our determination, ourselves."

In discussing the burdens and risks he said his program involves, Eisenhower said:

"Those who covet the area will not like what is proposed. Already, they are grossly distorting our purpose. However, before this Americans have seen our nation's vital interests and human freedom in jeopardy, and their fortitude and resolution have been equal to the crisis, regardless of hostile distortion of our words and motives and actions."

"Indeed, the sacrifices of the American people in the cause of freedom have, even since the close of World War II, been measured in many billions of dollars and in thousands of the precious lives of our youth. These sacrifices, by which great areas of the world have been preserved to freedom, must not be thrown away."

Court Clerk Fiscal Balance Is $44,731

LISBON — Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman in his 1956 fiscal year report issued today revealed that his department holds a total of $44,731.61 in bank balance and assets, as compared to $47,212.42 in 1955.

His department paid out $56,912.93 to the county treasury during the year, and a total of $137,950.07 to all funds. Salaries of the clerk and employees totaled $34,774.50.

The clerk's cash book shows a balance in deposit of $38,206.46 as compared to $40,279.85 in 1955. Outstanding checks total $6,500.25.

The legal department took in deposits totaling $36,779.85 and paid $38,943.24 in deposits and $40,703.32 for witness fees, foreign sheriff's fees and return of remaining deposits.

The sheriff of Columbiana County was paid $5,240.81 for services, and the law library received $439.20.

The title department paid $60,933.38 in sales and use tax to the state treasury, the county receiving $615.50 in poundage for the tax. The state also received $14,516.25 in car title fees. The county received $42,489.25.

Some $2,150.69 was paid for investigation of divorce cases.

There were 802 civil cases pending at the end of 1955. During last year 786 cases were filed, while 769 cases were settled or dismissed. At the close of business in 1956, some 819 cases remained for court consideration.

Coleman's report also showed 86 criminal cases were filed, 19 executions filed, 250 certificates of judgment issued and 170 notary commissions recorded.

Twenty-one petitions for naturalization were filed, and 22 persons were granted citizenship. Some 77 applications for passports and 12 auctioneer licenses were issued.

The title department issued 38,131 certificates of title, 513 duplicate certificates, 186 duplicate memorandum certificates, 15,945 notations of liens, 13,257 cancellations of notations of liens and 9,155 acknowledgments.

6 Killed, 34 Hurt In Greyhound Crash

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP) — A bus-truck collision north of this Shenandoah Valley town Friday night killed six persons, including three members of one family, and injured 34 others.

A young Scranston, Pa., mother, her three-week-old son, and her mother-in-law were among the victims of the crash of a capacity loaded, double-decker Greyhound bus into the rear of a parked tractor-trailer. The Scranston woman's 2½-year-old son was among the injured but his condition was listed as satisfactory.

State police said the collision occurred shortly after 7 p.m. on a dual-lane, divided section of the heavily traveled highway. The roadway was dry, police reported.

Killed were Scherer S. Sutliff, 48, of Roanoke, Va., the bus driver; Col. Milton Barbee Rogers, 61, of Rockbridge County, Va., former assistant general manager of Studebaker; Mrs. Regina Marie Bell Jackson, 21, of Scranston, Pa., and her son, Edward E. Jackson Jr.; Mrs. Joe S. Jackson of Wytheville, Va., and Kenneth Tyacke, 49, of Washington.

A state Trooper S. W. Talbert quoted passengers as saying the bus ran over warning flares put out by the driver after the truck broke down. The trooper said he was told the truck was parked partly on the roadside and partly on the pavement.

The crash, which almost sheared off the front of the bus, occurred on U.S. 11, one of the main north-south highways in the East.

Ohio Milk Producers Price Bid Rejected

CLEVELAND (AP)—Milk producers in northern Ohio apparently will not get that boost in price levels they asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to okay last October.

A recommended decision by Roy W. Lennartson, deputy administrator of the USDA Agricultural Marketing Service in Washington, received here Friday, rejected the higher milk price levels asked by the Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland at hearings Oct. 10-12.

The MPF had asked the USDA for a year-around $2.25 per hundredweight differential for fluid milk. The present class 1 (fluid) price is determined by the basic formula price plus a $1.40 differential for the months of February through July, and $1.85 for the other six months.

Hungary Admits UN Relief Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Hungary's Communist regime has admitted a U. N. mission to check on relief needs in that revolt-battered country. A U. N. observer team named to investigate Soviet intervention in the Hungarian rebellion still was barred.

A four-man team of U. N. economic experts arrived in Budapest yesterday for a visit of three to four days, U. N. officials disclosed.

The Soviet-imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar granted permission for the experts to enter Hungary on condition their visit was not publicized in advance, the officials said.

Although welcoming U. N. relief offers, the Kadar regime in fact had refused permission for any official U. N. mission to enter the country to study relief needs.

The General Assembly's repeated demands for the admission of U. N. observers to investigate the Soviet army's actions of the Oct. 23 revolution and charges that Russia deported thousands of rebel fighters were refused on the ground any U. N. investigation would infringe Hungary's sovereignty.

The relief mission now in Budapest is headed by Philippe de Seynes, U. N. undersecretary for economic matters.

McDonald

ment and some skepticism about Miss McDonald's disappearance.

Doubtful About Case
Officers in Los Angeles, 120 miles northwest of here, remained doubtful about the case through the evening. When word was flashed shortly after midnight that the actress had been found, Los Angeles Chief of Detectives Tom Brown at once sent four men to this date-growing center to get a full report, but he did not make known whether his attitude toward the case had changed.

Earlier in the day he had told newsmen: "We're a little inclined to think that it is not a legitimate, bona fide kidnapping. I am speaking for myself."

The three persons she phoned were Harrison Carroll, a movie columnist; British actor Michael Wilding, with whom she has been dating steadily of late; and Harold Plant, her agent.

Carroll got the first word from the actress after her purported abduction from her luxurious home in nearby Encino shortly after midnight. Carroll said a woman whose voice he recognized as Miss McDonald's phoned him at 4:35 a.m. and said:

Says Men Drugged Her
"Tonight at my home these two men came in and abducted me. They drugged me. They gave me a shot of something. They carried me miles."

She then explained that the two men were in another room and believed her to be asleep. "That's how I happened to get hold of a telephone," Carroll quoted her.

Wilding told police that when Miss McDonald called him hours later — at 1:30 p.m. — and whispered: "I'm blindfolded and doped. I wish to God I knew where I was."

Agent Plant said he got a call from her at 2:55 p.m., in which she said: "I'm still held captive." Plant said she was hysterical.

But before any of the calls made by Miss McDonald, word of the affair had reached her mother, Mrs. Marie Tuboni.

A person with a "young, nervous male voice" phoned her at 12:45 a.m., Mrs. Tuboni said, and reported to her: "We've got your daughter. We don't hurt her."

She said they warned her not to call the police.

Officers reached Miss McDonald's home at 1:30 a.m., at Mrs. Tuboni's summons. They found a note in the mailbox. Part was in pencil, part in letters clipped from a newspaper. It said: "Don't call police. She won't be hurt to get money."

Boy Runs In Front Of Car, Is Injured

Kent Smith, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of 340 W. 10th St., escaped possible serious injury Friday morning at 9 when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Kendall Ingram, 42, of 857 Jennings Ave., near the Buckeye Ave. school.

Police said Mrs. Ingram was headed south on Buckeye when the boy ran in front of her car. He was treated by a physician for bruises of the face and knee.

Is Willing Quarter Million

Youth Awaiting Sentence For Bad Checks Inherits Fortune

CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Daniel H. Wasserman was told today that a young man seeking to escape being sent to the Ohio Penitentiary for passing two bad checks totaling $250 had just inherited a quarter of a million dollars.

The defendant was Cheyney Wilson II, 28, of Cleveland Heights, who identified himself as the son and heir of the late Hamilton Wilson, investment banker, and stepson of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Pickands Wilson. The stepmother was the granddaughter of Col. James Pickands, founder of Pickands, Mather & Co.

Judge Wasserman was told that the defendant, who has been working as a service station attendant, had just completed a six-month jail sentence in Geauga County for passing worthless checks amounting to $250.

"You've got to learn a lesson," the judge told Wilson before learning of the inheritance. "What assurance have I got that you won't walk out of here and do the same thing all over again?"

"It isn't likely, judge," said Wilson's attorney, H. Donald Zimmerman. "He just inherited a quarter of a million dollars from his father's estate."

Zimmerman said Wilson's father died last Oct. 28, leaving $500,000 in trust for his son and a daughter, Mrs. Kellogg Smith. The charge against the son grew out of bad checks passed in Cleveland Heights last April.

Wilson's stepmother died Aug. 3, 1949, leaving a gross estate of $581,000.

Frankel Infant

Funeral service and burial were held this morning at 11 in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Leetonia, for the infant son of Shelton K. and Jennie M. Colazzi Frankel of RD 2, Columbiana. The baby was born dead at 11 a.m. Friday in Salem City Hospital.

Besides the parents, survivors include two brothers, Ronald and Robert; two sisters, Patricia and Debbie; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Colazzi of Leetonia and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kunkle of RD 2, Columbiana.

Elvis Presley To Get Chance To Rock Army

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Rock 'n' roll idol Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley today was subject to greetings from the President and a two-year Army tour.

Presley, man of the year in the entertainment field, passed his pre-induction physical examination Friday — four days before his 22nd birthday.

"It wasn't so bad" said the muscular singer, whose income from records, movies and personal appearances last year was well over a million dollars.

His draft classification was not immediately determined.

The Army, alerted two days early, had decided that 50 men plus Presley, plus newspaper, television and newsreel cameramen, reporters and curious employees would be too much.

Boy, 13, Faces Hearing As Result Of Fire

LISBON — A 13-year-old Glenmore boy will have a hearing in juvenile court Thursday, according to Deputy James Miller.

Charges filed against him are an aftermath of a $1,500 fire which destroyed a truck tire and a small frame shed owned by William S. Springer, near his home on Cannon Mill's Road. The deputy said witnesses saw the boy leave the building before the fire started.

Poultry Institute Set Here Wednesday

Poultrymen of Columbiana, Mahoning and other nearby counties will assemble in the Masonic Temple Wednesday at 10 a.m. for the annual poultry institute sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the County Poultry Committees of Columbiana and Mahoning counties.

The program will include a number of speakers.

All poultrymen of Columbiana, Mahoning and surrounding counties are invited to attend.

Senate Blocks Filibuster Action

Civil Rights Backers Remain Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of civil rights proposals said today they believe such legislation may be passed by Congress this year despite defeat of a move to curb filibusters.

The Senate voted 53-38 last night to kill the move to change Senate rules and make it easier to halt filibusters — or endless debate — against civil rights bills or other measures. The vote crossed party lines.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said, "We almost doubled our vote over 1953," when a similar effort was defeated 70-21. Humphrey said there is a "good chance" the Senate rules still may be changed this year and that civil rights bills could be enacted.

The battle centered around efforts of a coalition of Northern and Western senators, both Democrats and Republicans, to change a Senate rule that requires the votes of 64 senators to shut off debate. This same rule bars any limitation on debate of proposals to change the Senate rules.

Backers of the move aimed at gaining adoption of new Senate rules by majority vote argued that the present system gives a small group of senators veto power.

But Southerners, who have used the filibuster tactic in past years to block civil rights legislation, contended the issue transcended civil rights. They said it involved the traditional freedom of debate in the Senate.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California teamed in opposition to the rules change move.

The issue was decided, for the present at least, when the Senate voted to table a motion by Sen. Anderson (D-Mn.), leader of the coalition, to take up consideration of new rules.

On that vote, 27 Democrats and 28 Republicans voted to table. They were opposed by 21 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

However, Knowland — although opposed to the procedure followed by the Northern-Western group — announced he would introduce on Monday an amendment to present rules. This would be designed to make it easier to check filibusters.

Knowland said his proposal would permit debate to be halted by two thirds of the senators present and voting, instead of two thirds of all 96 members. And he said this would apply to proposed changes in the rules, as well as to other matters.

If his proposal gets out of committee and is brought before the Senate for action, it would be subject to a filibuster under existing rules.

YOUTH KILLED IN CRASH

EATON, Ohio (AP)—A car ran off a bridge and through ice into a creek on Ohio 503 Friday night, killing the driver, Johnny Vangus, 16, of nearby West Alexandria.

A companion, James Bower, 17, West Alexandria, was injured in the crash. Bower said the two were hurrying to get uniforms for a basketball game.

Salem Defeats N. Philadelphia 72-71 In Last 3 Seconds

Beall Paces Local Attack

Salem Scores 47.6% Of Shots From Field

By MARK MILLER

Salem's Quakers narrowly captured their fifth straight victory last night with Mark Fenton, pushing in the winning basket with three seconds remaining in the game, to edge New Philadelphia's Quakers 72-71, in a game played on the home floor before about 1,200 wildly cheering, jubilant fans.

The two teams battled back and forth furiously during the fray, with lead changing hands 22 times. Salem led the contest eight times the visitors held the lead eight times and the score was deadlocked another six times.

Seven seconds into the first period Richard Harris, put New Philadelphia out in front with a push shot for the first 2 points. Dick Beall's set shot tied it all up at 2 apiece. Bill Cooper made a charity toss for the visitors and they led 3 to 2.

TED JACKSON'S SHOT from the corner gave the locals a 4 to 3 lead, but Bill Riss made good on two baskets and the out of towners led 7 to 4.

Bill Pauline, then hit on a lay up shot, and followed with two charity tosses and the Cabasmen once again grabbed a one point margin, leading 8-7.

Cooper hit on an outside shot and the visiting Quakers forged out in front 9 to 8, but John Stephenson pushed a shot into the basket and Salem's ball club had the lead again 10 to 9.

Harris hit on an outside shot and the quintet from New Philadelphia led 11 to 10. Beall and Jackson hit for two fouls apiece, and the Cabasmen led 14 to 11.

Stephenson's shot from the key hole increased Salem's lead to 16-11. Cooper hit on a charity toss, cutting the score 16-12, and Jim Rolli hit on a one-handed push shot, and the visitor was trailing 16-14.

JACKSON'S CORNER shot made the count 18-14, leading, John Gray made two free throws to cut the score to 18-16. At this point Rolli hit baskets from all angles, netting four straight shots, and Cooper added two fouls, and when the buzzer sounded ending the first quarter, New Philadelphia led 27-22. Rolli made his first six baskets in a row without a miss during the end of the first stanza and the early part of the second period.

Just when it looked like New Philadelphia might change the tide and run away with the game, Salem's Dick Beall found the range and made seven out of the Quakers' next eight baskets. The visitors, however, still hitting with uncanny accuracy in the second quarter, held a 50-41 lead at the intermission.

In the third period the visitors cooled off and were able to score only six points, while the local five hit the nets for 19 markers. At the end of the third quarter, Salem held a 60-56 edge.

IN THE LAST stanza, the visitors wasted no time in catching up, quickly scoring five points to grab the lead 61-60.

Salem went to stall tactics during this period after they got the lead back 64-61, but with less than three minutes left, Gray put New Philadelphia out in front 65-64. Schuster, however, put the Cabasmen in front once more 66-65.

Cooper put his team out in front of Salem with a lay up shot 67-66, but Schuster hooped another tally and the Red and Black led 68-67.

With less than a minute to go and the fans screaming at the top of their lungs, Rolli made one of his two baskets during the second half to put the visitors out in front 69-68. Beall scored with thirty seconds remaining, and the Quakers led 70-69.

Richard Harris made good two charity tosses to give the visitors a 71-70 lead with nine seconds left, and then Mark Fenton came through with the game winning basket.

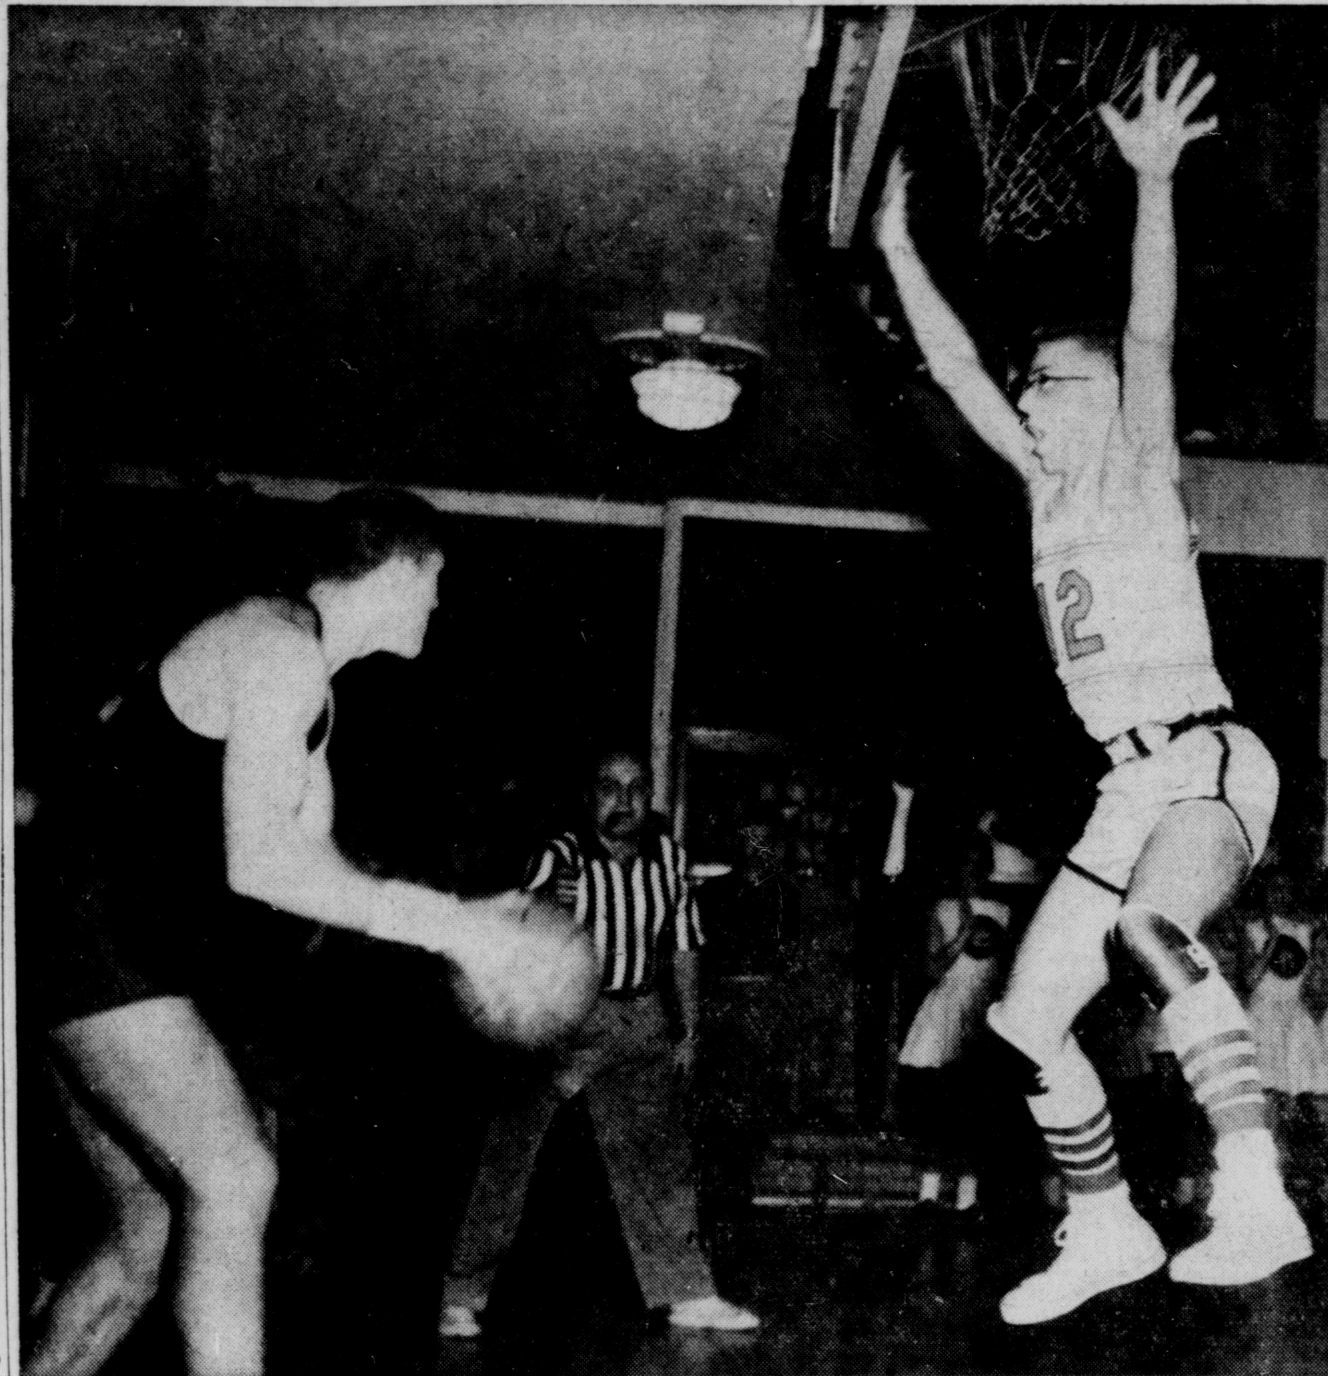

The visitors made 28 of 56 shots from the field for a high 50 percentage, and they also hit on 15 of 26 charity tosses for a 57.6 average.

In comparison Salem meshed the nets on 29 of 61 attempts for a 47.6 percentage, and from the foul stripe they made good on 14 of 24 attempts for an 58.3 average.

DICK BEALL LED the Quaker attack, netting nine field goals out of 17 attempts for a 52.9 percentage. He also added four of five free throws for a total of 22 points. Three other Salem players scored in the double figure column. Jackson, Pauline, and Fenton had 10, 13, and 10 points, respectively.

Jim Rolli, was high scorer for the losing Quakers, scoring on 11 of 19 field goal attempts for a 56.3 percentage. Teammate Bill Cooper had four baskets and hit on nine of 16 foul shots for 17 points.

Rolli, who scored 18 points in the first half, tallied only 4 markers in the last two periods, mainly because of the fine defensive play of Ted Jackson, who had been assigned to stop the New Philadel-

Comets Lose Eighth In Nine Starts

Fairfield lost its eighth game in nine starts this season when it was blasted by Springfield Twp. 75-42 Friday night on the Fairfield floor.

The outcome of the game was never an issue. Springfield jumped off to a 25-14 first period lead and padded its margin in each succeeding frame.

The score at the half was 38-20 and at the three-quarter mark 63-30.

Dave Ohlin paced the attack of the victors with 27 points. Nine Springfield players scored during the game. Paul Esenwein and Charles Miner each netted 15 markers for Fairfield.

The Fairfield reserves won the preliminary contest of the evening 35-33.

Fairfield's next game will be tonight when they meet Berlin Center there.

N. Waterford Dropped By Berlin Center

The New Waterford Trojans were handed their second loss of the season against eight wins last night at Berlin Center when they lost to a determined Blue Devil five 65-64 in the last three seconds.

A foul shot by Lee Barnes was the margin of victory as the home team won their fourth game in nine starts.

Barnes took individual game scoring honors on 10 buckets and 10 fouls for 30 points. The losing Trojans' scoring was divided evenly, with the leaders being Tom Bowker, Duwayne Brown, and Ron Seachrist with 17, 16, and 15 markers, respectively.

New Waterford led at the half 36-34, and at the third quarter mark, 54-51. In the final stanza, the Blue Devils outpointed their opponents by a 14-10 margin. Berlin Center won the reserve tilt by a 38-31 score.

Los Angeles Open In Second Round

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (P) — The first round of play decided nothing, so today the bulky field headed into the second tour of the Rancho Golf Club course in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

"Untimely weather" was predicted for the day as the 154 players surveyed the situation, and the traffic jam in the first two scoring positions was terrific.

Four professionals were tied in first place with 3-under par 68's for their initial efforts, and one stroke back were five others.

Marty Furgol, a familiar if unrenowned figure for many years in tournament golf, and three younger and lesser known pros, Doug Higgins of Midland, Tex., Billy Casper, Jr., Chula Vista, Calif., and Bob Thomas of Chicago led the way into today's second stanza.

The next position at 69 listed two outstanding threats to win the $7,000 jackpot, Jack Burke Jr., and Doug Ford. Both have won their share of fame and money, but neither has taken this event.

Tied with them were slender Gardner Dickinson, Panama City Beach, Fla.; Paul O'Leary, Bismarck, N. D., and a promising amateur, Ted Gleichmann of Ventura, Calif.

Just two strokes off the pace was the United States Open Champion, Cary Middlecoff; smooth swinging Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and five others.

WINS WOMEN'S SINGLES

MANLY, Australia (P) — Althea Gibson of New York rallied today to win the women's singles championship in the Seaside Tournament at this Sydney suburb by defeating Shirley Fry, St. Petersburg, Fla., 6-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Lew Hoad, Australia's star Davis Cupper, easily took the men's singles title by overpowering 19-year-old Myron Franks of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-1, 6-2.

Kaline Involved In Wage Squabble

DETROIT (P) — Al Kaline found himself in the middle of a salary squabble today and the crew-cut kid Detroit Tigers called the greatest slugger since Ty Cobb protested that "the whole thing has been blown away out of proportion."

General Manager Spike Briggs touched off the flare-up Friday by declaring that the kid from the Baltimore sandlots—who just passed his 22nd birthday—"thinks he's as good as Mickey Mantle."

All this caught Kaline by surprise. He said: "I don't know what to say at all. It's the most ridiculous thing I ever heard of. I never said anything of the sort, and never would say such a thing."

Briggs said the Tigers and Kaline are "far from agreement" on a 1957 contract. Pointing out that Kaline's batting average "slipped" last season and that the brilliant center fielder "didn't lead the league in anything," Briggs said, "We have made Kaline an offer of a bigger raise than he got last year, and that's that."

Kaline's 1956 salary has been estimated at about $26,000 — or more than double the amount he received in 1955. But the fleet fly-chaser who signed a bonus contract in midsummer of 1953 and won a starting job in his first full season says that's not true either.

"I didn't make nearly that much last season," he explained. "And the raise Spike offered me isn't nearly as much of a raise as I got last year."

Kaline indicated he is asking for about $32,000.

8,448 Bowlers Begin Competitive Marathon

CHICAGO (P) — A record entry of 8,448 bowlers, an increase of 2,112 over last year's high, today begins the squad-by-squad competitive marathon of the Louis P. Petersen Classic.

The 47th running of the Classic carries a top prize of $15,000 in cash and a total purse distribution of $202,752.

The meet will end May 26 when the last of 264 squads takes the lanes.

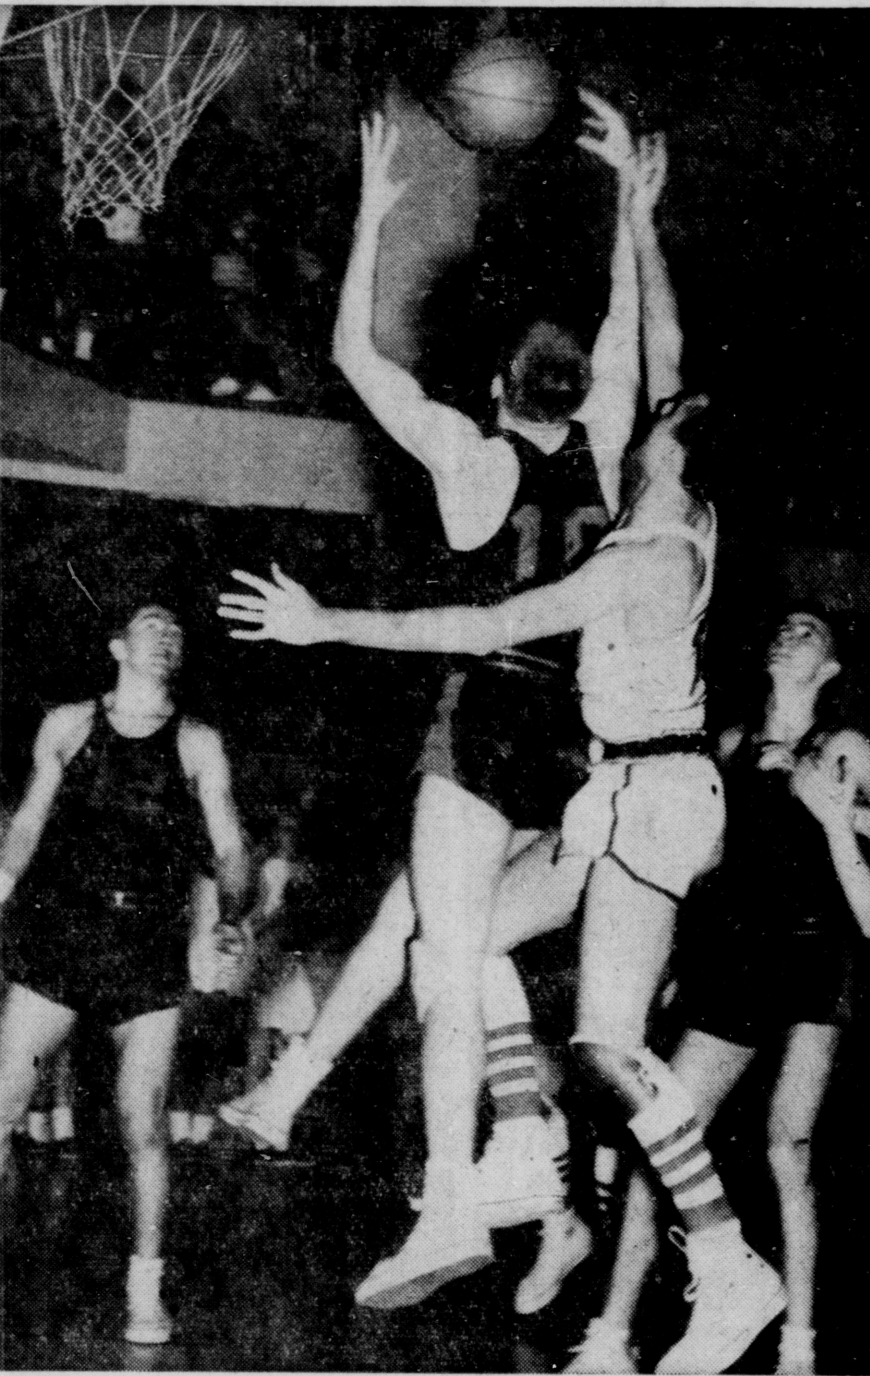

Among the entrants are the defending champion Jerry Dutler of Mankato, Minn., and Doris Knechtges of Detroit, the 1956 women's titlist.

Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Don Carter of St. Louis, current national match game champions, will take their turns on Feb. 2 and April 27, respectively.

McDonald Ekes Victory Over Goshen

A successful foul shot by McDonald's Hughes in the last seconds gave his team a 55-54 win over Goshen's Gophers last night at McDonald.

Ivey led the victorious Blue Devils with four field goals and 11 free throws for 19 points, but Goshen's Bob Stallsmith garnered game scoring honors with 20 markers on eight fielders and four charity tosses.

The teams were tied at the quarter 10-10, but Goshen led at the intermission 32-30. Then, in the third and fourth periods, McDonald outscored its opponents by one and two points, respectively, to collect its second win of the season against five setbacks. Goshen's record now reads, 6-2.

McDonald's JV's won their clash with the younger Gophers 38-35 earlier in the evening.

Nats End Boston Win Streak At 4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Gottlieb, the rotund member of the National Basketball Assn's official family who was so perplexed by Bill Russell he figured the brilliant Boston rookie must be doing something illegal, had a chance to see the big guy locked up tight Friday night.

Trouble is, it wasn't Gottlieb's Philadelphia Warriors who did it.

It was Syracuse and Earl Lloyd who cooled off the two-time All-American at Philadelphia as the Nats ended Boston's winning streak at four games 116-106. Then the Warriors held off a second half St. Louis surge to trip the Hawks for the second night in a row 96-92 in the nightcap of the twinnings.

They were the only games scheduled.

Russell, who had picked off 34 rebounds against the Warriors last week to upset Gottlieb, snared only 16 against the Nats and wound up with just seven points.

The Celts, who still have a 3½-game edge over Philadelphia for the Eastern Division lead, had the night's high-scorer in Bob Cousy with 32.

New Philadelphia Reserves Beaten By Salem 62-56

By BOB JULIAN

Salem High School's junior varsity squad continued on the unbeaten trail as they edged out a taller reserve team from New Philadelphia 62-56 last night on the Salem floor for their fifth straight win.

The victory for the local reserves marked their ninth consecutive triumph and 20th out of 21 in over two years. They were last defeated by East Liverpool 70-50 last year.

At the start it appeared as if the tilt would be a low scoring contest as neither team entered the scoring column until a little over two minutes had gone by. Salem's Clyde Marks broke the ice after he was fouled by sinking two charity tosses to give the Quakers a 2-0 lead.

Going into the final period the Salem Quakers held a 49-44 advantage but the going got rough as the New Philly Quakers pulled within four points of the locals several times.

LOU SLABY, PLAYING the brand of ball he played in the first few games, sparked the Zellersmen in the fourth stanza with his rebounding and his beautiful shooting under the basket.

Salem tallied 13 markers to 12 for the New Philly Quakers in the period.

Salem attempted 63 shots from the field and connected on 20 for a shooting percentage of 31, while New Philly drilled in 22 of 74 tries for 28 per cent. Salem hit the field and connected on 20 for 64 per cent, and New Philly dropped in 12 of 21 for 56 per cent.

Big Lou Slaby was the big gun for the Salem Quakers, pumping in 21 markers and hauling down 22 of Salem's 45 rebounds. Darryl Adams and Butch Platt, with 15 and 11 tallies, respectively, followed big Lou.

Leading the Quakers from New Philly was Marsh with 17. He was trailed by Masserelli and Collar with 14 and 13, respectively.

Lifts Probation Bans At Schools

UCLA, Washington Had Been Penalized

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — UCLA and Washington again may compete for Pacific Coast Conference championships in all sports except football.

The conference lifted probation bans against all non-football sports at the two institutions Friday.

UCLA last year won both the basketball and track championships of the conference and went ahead to gather in the NCAA track crown.

Both UCLA and Washington are top contenders for the basketball title this year.

Further, it approved in principle a unique plan of financial aid to athletes based on their individual needs and the costs of living in the communities where their universities are located.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg of the University of California, the conference spokesman, said both UCLA and Washington submitted data that no athletes other than football players had received illegal aid.

Last May, the two schools were penalized for illegal aid to athletes by booster and alumni groups. Later both Southern California and California were also hit.

In the USC case, however, only football was involved and the California probation did not include a ban against winning conference championships or playing in post-season events as in the other three rulings.

The NCAA backed the PCC in its all-sports probation against Washington and UCLA and additionally included USC as being ineligible for NCAA participation in its post-season events.

The two major factors in the new financial code are individual need and costs of living in widespread areas where the nine schools are located. On campus work by the athlete is required with most of it during time he is not participating in sports.

If an athlete's family is able to assume full support, it will be required to do so although on-campus work is permitted.

Should family resources plus the earnings of an athlete in an on-campus job not be sufficient to provide enough to cover tuition, books, room and board, a grant-in-aid would be available for the difference.

"I was wrong," Hickman told Burnham, who is expected to leave the hospital soon. Baylor won the game, 13-7.

National Rubber Machine Co. Equips Leetonia Plant

Tire Mold Work Planned At Former Crescent Factory

COLUMBIANA — Machinery is being moved from the Columbiana and Akron plants of the National Rubber Machine Co. to the former Crescent Machine Co. plant in Leetonia, which National Rubber bought last year.

The company expects to begin operations with 50 or 60 employees on tire mold work in the Leetonia plant early this year.

It is the aim of the firm to get the specialized tire mold work out of way in its Columbiana and Akron plants to relieve crowded conditions and provide for the installation of new machinery in its main plants.

An Akron moving concern is making the transfer of machinery to Leetonia.

The Crescent plant was sold a year ago to National Rubber by the Rockwell Mfg. Co. which sold out after a prolonged strike of workers at Leetonia several years ago.

COLUMBIANA AND Fairfield High School students are participating in the annual essay contest sponsored by Firestone American Legion Post, which will award prizes to two members of each of the four classes in each school. The subject this year is "Patriotism in Modern America." Essays are to be in the hands of Dr. J. R. Garstick, 30 Union St., post chairman of the contest by next Friday, Jan. 11, for submission to the local judges. They are to be in the hands of the county chairman by Feb. 1.

CHIEF OF POLICE William Mc-

Guckin's annual report shows expenses during 1956 of $20,920.89, and income of $13,374.79. Expenses included $12,668.30 regular police salaries, and cost of extra police, school police, a new cruiser and cruiser expenses, and other items added up to the remainder of the nearly $21,000 of expense.

Parking meters contributed $6,165.94 to the income for the year, augmented by mayor's court fines and costs of $3,607.60, the village share of State Highway Patrol cases in mayor's court amounting to $3,304.25, and parking violations of $297.

Civil defense auxiliary police piled up 2,263 hours of service, the chief reported, which would have cost the town $3,394.50 to compensate them, Chief McGuckin says. Auxiliary police service included 920 hours in the cruiser as required, and 425 hours of emergency service in connection with fires and storms.

Mayor E. L. Calvin's court disposed of 312 cases during the year, 166 village arrests and 146 State Highway Patrol arrests.
